My Parents Are Gonna Love You!

Celebrities play the game and trick the parents of their pretend-future-fiancé, by acting their very worse!

A young girl wants to trick her parents by introducing them to a fake fiancé. The shock is even bigger since the person is a famous celebrity! Parents are invited to dinner in a luxurious loft, filled with hidden cameras, to meet their daughter's chosen one. In a carefully rehearsed manner, the celebrity will do his very best to act his very worse. Terrible manners, rude, even indecent, our celebrities will do anything humanly possible to be hated by their guests. At the end of the evening, under the pretense of having to make a formal announcement, the masks drop and parents find out they have been tricked! This gives them the occasion to go over the most absurd and embarrassing moments of the night - and especially, the funniest!
